NATIONAL PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE*WHAT DO WE WANT TO BE?

On a recent trip to Florida, I was asked a question by Brother Doug Anderson that I have never been asked before, and it started me thinking about what we want to be. We advertise that we are a national organization, but what are we really?

I should at this point tell you what the question was. He asked "What is our growth plan to open new chapters?" Now if you go back through our history over the last 50 years, you can hardly pick up a copy of this magazine without finding an article about membership. However, I have never seen a plan in writing and approved by the National Council to target areas to open new chapters, as this would take a commitment of time and resources. I don't know if we are positioned to be able to do either.

This year, Bruce Smith and his committee along with National Trustee Jim Byrd, have drafted a very good recruiting letter that is ready to be sent to as many newspapers as we decide to send it to, but there are still obstacles in our way. We do not currently have the knowledge or paraphernalia available in order to charter a new chapter. Nor have we allotted any funds for any extended travel it may take to bring a new chapter to fruition.

So now the call goes out for some input and help as we begin to look toward National Council so we can construct a plan for new chapters and with it make sure that we don't go another 42 years and counting between new chapters.

This being Sweetheart month, I want to say thanks to Karen for representing us so well. You are doing a great job.

Always looking forward,

Craig Brutout
National President

Howdy brothers and sisters. This past month marked Candie's and My 22nd wedding anniversary and that means I have been married half my life. For 22 years I have been in love with one person and the power of love is very emotional.

Now, love is one of the most mis-used words around. People love their spouses, their pets, their foods, their cars, etc... but you will not die for your pet, and you can live without your favorite food. When comes down to it, you will die for your spouse, and I know I cannot live without my wife. The same thing is true with levels of love amongst people. You love your family differently than some friends or other people in your life.

By joining our fraternity, we swore to love our brothers, but it is not always that easy. Just by the number of people and the chemistry between individuals, it's natural for some of us not to get along with everyone. There are situations when a couple of brothers do not like each other for one reason, or don't see eye to eye with each other. Does that mean that they cannot love each other? I say yes, they can. I see love three different ways. One way is a deep affection for someone that is intimate, like one would find in your spouse or your special friend. The second way is to share part of your life with someone with whom you have a common interest, like a friend. And the third way is respect. All relationships need respect, even when those relationships are not the most pleasant. For those situations when brothers cannot get along, they need to just respect each other by keeping their opinions to themselves and not disrespecting the other. I believe that if they talk to each other, they may change their minds.

I love my wife and family and I would not want live without them. I love my friends and I enjoy my time with you and will miss you when you're gone. I show love for my brothers who I do not see eye to eye with by not disrespecting them.

Brian Nelson
National Vice President.

Sam Agresti
National Master of Ceremonies

Hello from the Deep South. With the holidays over, now we start to concentrate on the matter of working hard to fulfill individual as well as chapter goals for the New Year. Myself, I'm going to make some trips up north as well as to Tampa and Mississippi. I hope that all new inductees are well trained in the PDK rules and traditions that as brothers we have sworn to uphold.

Being National Master of Ceremonies I see the importance that our new brothers are given proper instructions so they can become responsible brothers and not just members. A new year offers chapters the opportunity to try different ideas and with new members onboard and get their perspective about what they think might be a good idea as a fundraiser or community service project.

Fl Mu has been fortunate that our new members have just done that and we have projects earmarked for 2012 that we are excited about. Brother Brian Nelson has informed us about Spring SEC is in Danville in March so that will be a time for me to see the fine brothers there and enjoy the hospitality.

February is sweetheart month, so I hope chapters do something for our sweethearts and I would like to take this opportunity to recognize our National Sweetheart Karen Williams. She is a fine woman to represent our organization for 2011-12 and we are all proud of her.

River Ranch is coming up so the Florida chapters will be gathering to meet, talk, discuss, eat, drink, and enjoy brotherhood the southern way. Hope to see you all there and anybody from the north are always welcome.

Leadership
Chris Parks
National Auditor

Hello Brothers and Sweethearts! Congratulations to all the new local officers for those chapters who just held their elections in January. I thought I'd share just a little of my experience with the different types of leadership style, having retired from the military. After 27 years I've seen and dealt with them all. They are Authoritarian, Participative, and Delegate or Passive.

The first and generally the least effective is the Authoritarian. This style is used when leaders tell their subordinates what they want done and how they want it accomplished, without getting the advice of their followers. Some of the appropriate conditions to use it is when you have all the information to solve the problem, you are short on time, and your subordinates are well motivated.

Some people tend to think of this style as a vehicle for yelling, using demeaning language, and leading by threats and abusing their power. This is not the authoritarian style, rather it is an abusive, unprofessional style called "bossing people around." It has no place in a leader's repertoire.

The second type, and generally considered the most effective, is the Participative. This style involves the leader including one or more subordinates in the decision making process (determining what to do and how to do it). However, the leader maintains the final decision-making authority. Using this style is not a sign of weakness; rather it is a sign of strength that your subordinates will respect.

This is normally used when you have part of the information, and your subordinates have other parts. Note that a leader is not expected to know everything — this is why you have knowledgeable and skillful subordinates. Using this style is of mutual benefit — it allows them to become part of the team and allows you to make better decisions.

The third and final type, is considered a weak leader, is the Delegate or Passive. In this style, the leader allows the subordinates to make the decisions. However, the leader is still responsible for the decisions that are made. This is used when subordinates are able to analyze the situation and determine what needs to be done and how to do it. You cannot do everything! You must set priorities and delegate certain tasks.

This is not a style to use so that you can blame others when things go wrong, rather this is a style to be used when you fully trust and have confidence in the people below you. Do not be afraid to use it, however, use it wisely!

"How will my actions today reflect on our fraternity tomorrow?"

Spring S.E.C.
March 24, 2012
Danville, IN

Spring S.E.C. is this coming March 24, 2012 in Danville. The meeting will start at 9:00 a.m. and the doors will be open at 8:00. There will coffee and donuts. The local chapter will provide dinner on Friday and on Saturday they will have an all you-can-eat spaghetti dinner.

I have reserved rooms at the Comfort Inn, 8229 US 36 East, Avon, IN 46123 (317)272-8789. It has a free breakfast, free high speed internet, and a pool. It is best that you reserve your room as soon as you can. You can find your own accommodations if you wish, but I am staying at this hotel and I can transport you from there. I will be available to pick anyone up at the Indianapolis airport all day on Friday and return you to the airport.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call me at any time. (765) 432-2031 Brian Nelson

It's time to pay tribute to our beloved sweethearts. Yes its February, the shortest month of the year, so Valentines Day is right around the corner, time to take your sweetheart out for a night on the town. Flowers, candy, and jewelry: this holiday can be as expensive as Christmas! But it's one day each year that we guys have to make extra sure we pamper our ladies (and we all know that if momma ain't happy ain't nobody happy), and its not much to ask that you take your sweetheart somewhere besides the chapter house every now and then. And if you don't, just see how often you'll be in the chapter house! I know I'll be spending Valentines night with my wife and I'm sure she'll get some flowers and maybe some candy and a nice dinner. Just spending the extra time with your sweetheart goes a long way in showing that you care.

I would like to apologize for not having an article last month. Celeste and I have been living out of boxes for the last few months while we've been moving and trying to get our new house set up (still don't have all the utilities hooked up including internet service) and staying with family during this time has been a mess I didn't see my computer for a month . But I hope to get back on track soon . To all our sweethearts HAPPY VALENTINES !!

Greetings Brothers and Sweethearts; February 14th, Valentine's Day, is the day we as men acknowledge the women in our lives and their importance to us. It is a custom that has its beginnings in ancient Rome. In the second century, the Roman Emperor declared single men could no longer be married because they made better soldiers than married men. St. Valentine continued to perform marriage in secret and was eventually jailed and put to death as a result of his actions. In modern times, Valentines Day is second only to Christmas for the sending of greeting cards.

At the risk of being ridiculed, I will tell you that I personally am very dependent on my Valentine. I cannot and do not wish to imagine what my life would be like without her in it. Our fraternity is dependent on its women as well. Though forced to take a back seat, they still are an integral part to the machine.

In our fraternity, we select a National Sweetheart each year at convention. This selection is done by a secret ballot with each national officer, each PNP, and each chapter submitting nominations of up to three ladies they feel are worthy. It is an award that generates much enthusiasm and debate as any award given, as we all have our favorite ladies and feel they are as deserving of this award as anyone else's favorite. This past convention we as a fraternity honored Karen Williams with the designation of National Sweetheart. She is very deserving being active on both the National and local levels of PDK. Congratulations again, Karen.

Many chapters also select Chapter Sweethearts. In my home chapter, Beta Eta, we do this annually at our Sweetheart Dinner, which is held on the nearest weekend to Valentine's Day. In recent years, we have also honored our National Sweetheart at this event and billed it as The National Sweetheart Dinner with many Past National Sweethearts attending, something we as a chapter are pretty proud of.

This month, be sure to let the women in your lives and in your chapters know what they mean to each of you.

One more thing of importance, each chapter received information at National Convention regarding our national endeavor, the Wounded Warrior Foundation and Freedom Station. You were also asked to plan an event for this. I hope things are underway and you all have a successful day of fundraising.

Until next time,

Jeff Woolf

The constitution was written to meet the emergencies of the moment. The Alpha Grand Chapter, as the charter members were to be called, had absolute power, with the chapter officers designed as the national officers. This made Brother George Nottingham the first national president, Brother Zack Sanderson the first national secretary, Brother Walter Tukey (since resigned) the first national treasurer, Brother Gilbert Bainbridge the first national sergeant-at-arms and myself the first national master-of-ceremonies. Alpha Chapter had monarchical power during the pioneer days of the fraternity. In the first place, there were no other chapters when that constitution was drafted and adopted, and, in the second place, it was the better part of wisdom to centralize all executive and legislative power within the chapter group until after the chapters which were to spring up had demonstrated their fitness to participate in the general affairs of the fraternity. For this same reason the constitution provided that, when a chapter was admitted to the fraternity, it should first be granted a temporary charter which was to be good for six months. If in that length of time the chapter became established, a permanent charter was to be conferred, however, this article of the constitution was an afterthought and was written into the constitution just before the first outside chapter was installed. It was inspired in part by the fact that the Alpha Grand chapter did not have money enough in the treasury to have permanent charters printed or to buy a seal. By means of the "temporary charter" we could make shift with a typewritten document. Iota Tau Kappa at one time allowed honorary members in to bolster membership.

It was decided to restrict the membership of Alpha Grand chapter, making it purely a national governing body, and to install a second chapter in Marion, this was to consist of younger boys who were students in the high school. So we slated the Columbus group to be Beta Chapter and the second Marion group to be Gamma chapter and Alpha Grand. With three chapters of Phi Delta Kappa ready for installation, it is small wonder that those of us who comprised Alpha Grand chapter- and with a few additions and one or two subtractions these charter members of the newly founded fraternity were the same as those who had subscribed to the simple rules of Iota Tau Kappa on the steps of the Marion High School about two years before.

I take pride in the belief that our ritual and the entire spirit of Phi Delta Kappa teach a number of lessons which will be of benefit to any man as he meets the affairs of life. It took 7 rituals to supply the new chapter, and I took these together with what ritualistic paraphernalia that was required. The Merchants Hotel was the scene of the installation and, despite the arrival of the Marion contingent, there was not enough of us to install the chapter with the ritualistic work. It had all been wonderfully successful, Phi Delta Kappa, with one outside chapter actually installed, at last had the right to call itself a national, rather than a local organization, and the future presented a rosy aspect when viewed from our optimistic standpoint. It has always been a source of great pride to me that this Portland chapter, the first to be installed by Phi Delta Kappa, has always remained loyal, that is has had a continuous existence and that it has produced a number of men who, as fraternity leaders, have reflected great credit upon their own chapter and the fraternity at large. Alpha chapter had long been without a fraternity room, and we all realized that the time was ripe to remedy this defect. A national fraternity without something that could be called a national headquarters could not hope to get very far.

It was decided, therefore, that Alpha and Gamma should share the same quarters and a committee chosen to represent both of these chapters procured a large room in a building on Boots Street, just south of Fourth. It was in this room that Gamma chapter was installed.

The matter of constitutional revision was of foremost importance, and early in the spring of 1906, we decided to hold a sort of constitutional convention. We decided to invite each chapter to send two delegates. The meetings were held in the fraternity rooms at Marion, with the result that the old constitution, except in its general principles, was discarded entirely and a new constitution was adopted, giving each chapter the right to present candidates for any national office, and also making new laws regarding the installation of new chapters, the payment of national dues, etc. A general convention was called to be at Bluffton in the spring and the chapters represented must have been more than double those that attended the first delegates' convention, the third convention which was to be held at Muncie. It was at the Muncie convention we decided to have a magazine. It was to be called "The Red and Black". The Phi Delta Kappa Magazine is the successor of the earlier publication. Red and Black was one of the most vital forces of our fraternity life. Iota Tau Kappa is where it all started, and Phi Delta Kappa is our beginning.

Chapters have come and gone, new chapters will be formed again. Like 13 original States more are yet to come!

Hello from Cracker Country By David Rieker

Hello again from cracker country. Well, because of my outrageous report on the weather people, one of our deep-thinkers at club has informed me that there is no need to concern myself with the visit of a meteorite. A tsunami maybe. Don Dudley told me that since there are many airports and heliports so that now he wants to be the first to build a meteorite-port in his back yard. He said that the only problem he's having is finding a tour guide to host the location. Most everyone has become hysterical after learning his objective. I'll keep you posted.

Another great Christmas party last Saturday at club. Everyone brought a covered dish and it was well attended. And another new member was initiated last night. Florida Alpha Lambda is on a roll. Mary and I hope everyone had a great Christmas and happy holidays!!

I was ensconced in my easy chair and I had just watched about 10 straight commercials and then the show I was trying to watch came back on. Well, I had just about picked up the story thread when I was slammed with eight or ten more commercials. So, I started concentrating on the number of commercials instead of the show. Am I crazy? Or is there somewhere near 50 commercials an hour these days? Now, I remember when you could buy a box for about the price of a bag of peanuts that you hooked up outside near you antenna and another sat on your t. v. and the shows came in without commercials. And you didn't have to fiddle with your programmer. All right, so here's what we'll do. Everyone send me all your money and I will form a cable company. Then, every month you send me $100.00 for maintenance and I will bring into your home T.V. programs that are free of commercials. Don't worry, if it doesn't work, you can stop sending me the $100.00 a week. Boy! It's hell being an entrepreneur.

So, now for some fiction and fact from the Phi Delt almanac. A group of Physicians were pondering the value of physical fitness to longevity. A group of Phi Delt's were asked to do the study. After several days of in depth study we surmised that physical fitness is definitely in!! Because most of us have physical fits from time to time! So, be well and full of he% $#. Cracker Boy signing off. Dave Rieker.

National Sweetheart Karen Williams

Hello everyone, I hope you all had a very nice Christmas and a Happy New Year. I called in December to all the chapters to wish them a nice Christmas and a Happy New Year! I was able to talk to someone at Winchester, Danville, Michigan City, and Mississippi. They were all very sweet and friendly. For the rest of the chapters I left a message. I hope they got them!

Well Willie and I had a very nice Christmas and a very Happy New Year. On New Years Eve, Willie and I went to the club, we played cards, Ping Pong and everyone brought in food! Let me say that no one went home hungry! We always have a lot of food. We watched the ball drop on TV and toasted with some bubbly!

Willie and I are planning on going to Winchester on Feb. 11 to the National Sweetheart Dance. I'm sure we will have a nice time! I cannot wait to visit with everyone. Well, until next time. God Bless You All.

Karen Williams

February is the month your daughter or son should be thinking about applying for the National Scholarship for next fall.

It is time for dad to copy an application from the red book that each chapter received two years ago from the national. It will be at your chapter house ask your chapter secretary/treasure for the book. If your chapter can not find the book, you may get an application by email me at james-myers00@comcast.net or call 765-455-3110.

The application must be at my home by May 15, 2012.

Disillusioned Brother

By Jay Gass

As a new member of PDK, I have to wonder what kind of a fraternity I joined. In July, as a new member, I attended my first convention. The brothers of Gamma Lambda were what I was led to believe what a fraternity was all about. They were wonderful hosts and hostesses. They showed us a great time. But all was not well.

At the first meeting on Thursday, one of my members was chastised by certain members because of his beliefs. Then a letter was read on the floor that was unfair and untrue, as someone who knows him as brother and a friend. Not only did this letter go through Tampa, we at FL MU, have asked numerous times for a copy of this letter so our brothers could hear it on our floor. The owner of this letter has time after time given us an excuse as to why he did not have it. Then, at a meeting at our chapter, in front of our National President, he stated that it was personal letter to him personally, and if we wanted it would have to wait for it to be published at convention! If it was a personal letter it had no right to be read on the floor! So much for the transparency talked about at convention!

Also we the brothers of FL MU, questioned the motive behind why our chapter was the only one asked to provide our minutes in the whole fraternity. The answers given to us ring hollow. I was there when it was brought up that I was their illegally by a non member who knew OUR constitution. WRONG !! I was voted on and initiated this fraternity. We are a small chapter that Sam and Jerry have worked hard to grow. My self, as well as the five new members. have to question the motives and actions prominent members and the SEC that come to our house and do not deal us honestly, to have hostility towards us when we ask questions. How are we to grow with these types of actions? We as new members are having a hard time. Do we want to bring in more friends to face this type of "brotherhood"? It is a shame. What happened to transparency? A Disillusioned Brother.
